Sheffield Hallam University encourages its students to feed back regularly about their experience and makes changes to its courses in response to this feedback. You will do this in the following ways.

1) Talk to your course student representatives

Each Sheffield Hallam course elects student representatives (known as 'student reps') who take part in the student - staff course committee. The student reps collect regular feedback from all students on the course and discuss it with the course tutors in order to improve the student experience. The student reps are trained by the Sheffield Hallam Student Union. Use this link to find out more.

2) Complete the module evaluation questionnaires

The module evaluation questionnaires are used to improve the content and delivery of the modules you study. They will be provided by your tutors.

3) Complete the Sheffield Hallam Student Experience Survey

Please make sure you take part in order to give us feedback on your overall experience of studying a course delivered by Sheffield Hallam University, and to nominate teachers for the Inspirational Teaching Award.
